

I am appalled at Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the entire public interest. Not just the interests of the current ultra conservative Republican party. I believe when large companies control the airwaves, they need to present a much broader field of thought, ONE THAT INCLUDES ALL PLAYERS AT THE GAME. They don't call them public airwaves for nothing.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
